ENGINEERING PROJECTS

American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) – Bridge Design Projects — October 2026 – Present
Northwestern University | Evanston, IL

- Collaborate with a 15- member team to design a 22-23 ft steel bridge for the 2027 ASCE Student Steel Bridge Competition, meeting strict limits on member size, clearances, and bolted connections
- Design a 3D-printed PLA bridge with a twenty-four in clear span for the 2027 ASCE 3D-Printing Competition, optimizing strength-to-weight ratio, stiffness, and assembly time
- Coordinate team workflow against competition deadlines and design rules, translating spec requirements into buildable member layouts

Adaptive and Retractable Coat Hook — April 2025 – June 2025
Northwestern University | Evanston, IL

- Designed and built a retractable, height-adjustable hook with a key-lock mechanism, allowing the user to position the hook at a comfortable, accessible height regardless of stature or reach
- Validated the prototype against user requirements through iterative testing, refining the design based on findings
- Collaborated closely with a project partner within a 4-person team to define requirements and converge on a final design

Rapid-Deployment Oxygen Regulator — September 2024 – December 2024
Northwestern University | Evanston, IL

- Engineered a spring-loaded oxygen tank regulator for a project partner at Lurie's Children's Hospital, cutting setup time from 30 seconds to 4.5 seconds to ease the workload on caretakers
- Collaborated with a 3-person team to drive design decisions, hit project checkpoints on schedule, and manage budget efficiency
- Selected for Northwestern's The Garage's Residency incubator- Northwestern's core startup program- gaining dedicated mentorship and 24/7 workspace to advance the prototype beyond the classroom
